Why Marlux?

For more than 30 years, Marlux has retained its reputation as a well-respected and trusted British manufacturer. Having pioneered one of the world's first disposable privacy curtains in 2003, today we continue to lead the way in innovation in infection control disposable curtains. Our recent investment in state-of-the-art inhouse printing facilities is just one example of our commitment to responding to customers' needs.

From our UK-based manufacturing, storage and distribution facility in the heart of the West Midlands, we can quickly and easily respond to customer requirements.

Quality, traceability and independent testing, along with our collaboration with leading suppliers and specialists, means you can depend on Marlux as your long-term partner for disposable privacy curtains.
